Andrew Carnegie, American industrialist and philanthropist, made a fortune by manufacturing iron and steel protected by customs tariff. In 1873, on one of his frequent trips to England, he met Henry Bessemer and became convinced that the industrial future lay in steel. He built the J. Edgar Thomson Steel Mills near Pittsburgh, and from that moment on, the Carnegie empire was one of constant expansion. Later on, the Carnegie Steel Co. became an immense organization. It included all the processes of steel production from the great furnaces and finishing mills of Pittsburgh to the steamers that move the ores and the finished products. Like his grandfather, Andrew Carnegie did not abandon the

Only one out of all chief executive officers (CEOs) at financial companies operating in South Korea was female, the data showed Monday, revealing much about the hard-to-crack glass ceiling for women employees in the country.

President Sohn D.O., the 61-year-old head of Prudential Life Insurance Korea Co., was the only female chief executive among the heads of all financial companies here, according to the latest industry data based on 90 major financial firms.

Sohn started her career as a bank clerk in Chase Manhattan Bank in the middle 1980s before she began working at Prudential Life in 1996. She took the helm of the Seoul-based U.S. insurance firm two years ago for the first time as a woman.

_____ , the average age of financial CEOs in Korea stood at 56.4, the data showed. CEOs at brokerages had the lowest average at 54.8, followed by those at life insurers with 55.9. Financial holding companies had the highest average age of 59.3.

Chairman Lee M.J., the 46-year-old chief of Allianz Life Insurance Korea Co., was the second youngest to become the leader of a financial company here, after President Choi J.H of Hyundai Life Insurance Co., aged 45.

A large number of financial CEOs in Korea majored in either economics or business administration, accounting for 40 out of the 90 surveyed, the data showed.

Of the total, about 75 percent graduated from colleges located in Seoul and Gyeonggi areas, while the remaining 25 percent are graduates of colleges in the other regions.

Kabuki is a popular form of Japanese theater. It began several centuries ago and remains an important part of Japanese culture today. For this reason, many westerners who visit Japan make it a point to see at least one kabuki performance. Although western visitors usually report that the kabuki spectacle is dazzling, they are often puzzled by the tradition of the onnagata, a _____ actor who specializes in playing _____ roles. At one time, there was talk that the tradition of the onnagata should be abandoned and women should be allowed to play women, but that idea has been rejected. The onnagata remains a staple of the kabuki performance. In some cases, an onnagata can become wildly popular and be treated the way rock musicians or movie stars are treated in the United States.

24. Which is the most appropriate for the blanks?

- ① female — female
- ② male — female
- ③ female — male
- ④ male — male

25. According to the passage, which is true?

- ① Kabuki is no longer a Japanese cultural phenomenon.
- ② Some westerners are revolted by kabuki performances.
- ③ The tradition of the onnagata once became controversial.
- ④ An onnagata is popular in Japan as well as in the United States.

Today of course Leonardo da Vinci is most famous for paintings like the Mona Lisa and The Last Supper. In his mind, Leonardo was not primarily _____, though. He thought of himself as _____ first. In a letter to the ruler of Milan listing his strengths, sent in the early 1480s, Leonardo mentioned 10 different skills—designing bridges, tunnels, chariots and catapults, for example—before adding at the end that he could also paint.

Leonardo was an insatiable learner, too. He studied everything he could see: the flow of water, the way smoke rises through the air, how a woodpecker uses his tongue. And he had insights that were ahead of his time. He developed a theory about the working of a certain heart valve that researchers only verified a few decades ago. He was the first person to correctly explain why you can see light between the two points of a crescent moon, the phenomenon we now call earthshine.

Scientific inquiries like these were essential to his art. He was able to give the Mona Lisa that mysterious look on her face because he had studied all the muscles involved in smiling. In The Last Supper, he could make the perspective lines work flawlessly because he had spent countless hours understanding how our eyes perceive objects at a distance. By examining his surroundings so closely, Leonardo was able to develop new techniques that advanced his field and portrayed the world in a way no one had ever seen before. In other words, he was an innovator.

26. Which is the most appropriate for the blanks?

- ① a scientist — a painter
- ② a painter — an engineer
- ③ an engineer — an artist
- ④ an artist — a biologist

27. According to the passage, which is NOT true?

- ① Leonardo was a man of various gifts.
- ② Leonardo applied his observations of the human body to his art.
- ③ Leonardo's paintings were the combinations of art and scientific techniques.
- ④ Leonardo abstained from revealing his painting skills to the ruler of Milan.

If there is a preponderance among mankind of rational opinions and rational conduct, it is owing to a quality of the human mind, the source of everything respectable in man either as an intellectual or as a moral being, namely, that his errors are corrigible. He is capable of rectifying his mistakes, by discussion and experience. Not by experience alone. There must be discussion, to show how experience is to be interpreted. Wrong opinions and practices gradually yield to fact and argument: but facts and arguments, to produce any effect on the mind, must be brought before it. Very few facts are able to tell their own story, without comments to bring out their meaning. Then, reliance can be placed on the whole strength and value of human judgement only when the means of setting it right are kept constantly at hand. In the case of any person whose judgement is really deserving of confidence, how has it become so? Because he has kept his mind open to criticism of his opinions and conduct. The steady habit of correcting and completing his own opinion by collating it with those of others is the only stable foundation for a just reliance on it. For, being cognisant of all that can, at least obviously, be said against him, and having taken up his positions against all _____, he has a right to think his judgement better than that of any person, or any multitude, who have not gone through a similar process.

28. Which is the closest in meaning to the underlined part?

- |               |               |
|---------------|---------------|
| ① criticism   | ② rationality |
| ③ superiority | ④ reflection  |

29. Which is the most appropriate for the blank?

- |              |              |
|--------------|--------------|
| ① gainsayers | ② supporters |
| ③ votaries   | ④ apostates  |

30. According to the passage, which is NOT true?

- ① Facts will determine the reliance of opinions.
- ② Opinions are not reliable without being put to discussion.
- ③ Criticism is not to be avoided to strengthen the confidence of opinions.
- ④ The intellectual quality of human mind is found in the ability to correct errors.
