3월 고3

1. 다음을 듣고, 여자가 하는 말의 목적으로 가장 적절한 것을 고르시오.

W: Attention please, teachers and students. This is the vice principal. As we notified you last week, some workers from the power company are here today to inspect the school's electric facilities. During the checkup, electricity might temporarily go out in some offices and classrooms. In addition, the school elevators won't be available until the inspection is completed. In case of unexpected power cuts, I would like you to save your work and create back-up files while working on computers. The technicians will finish their work before lunch time ends. Thank you for your patience with any inconvenience.

2. 대화를 듣고, 남자의 의견으로 가장 적절한 것을 고르시오.

M: What are you doing, Ms. Taylor?

W: I'm preparing a satisfaction survey for our community center.

M: I see. How are you going to do the survey?

W: I'll send a link to our members so that they can open it right on their smartphone.

M: Is that the only way for them to participate?

W: Yes. Is there a problem with that?

M: You may not get a large sample. I mean you can't get opinions from people who don't use a smartphone.

W: Oh, that's a good point.

M: I think you should diversify your survey methods to increase the number of respondents.

W: You're right. I'll add a paper-based survey. That'll cover a wider range of respondents.

3. 대화를 듣고, 두 사람의 관계를 가장 잘 나타낸 것을 고르시오.

M: Hello, Ms. Russell. I'm honored to have you here.

W: Thank you for inviting me, Mr. Warren.

M: It was my pleasure to work with you. Did you enjoy my movie?

W: Yes. It was fantastic!

M: I'm glad to hear that.

W: Actually, I've never imagined that the characters from my comic book could be realized in a live action movie.

M: I liked the characters in your comic book so much that I wanted to make them super realistic.

W: I'm wondering how you've put all the actions and scenes on the screen.

M: The computer graphics team did most of the work and my actors did their jobs very well as I directed.

W: Oh, I see. I'm so happy to see my characters come to life in the movie.

M: I'm happy you liked it.

4. 대화를 듣고, 그림에서 대화의 내용과 일치하지 않는 것을 고르시오.

W: Hi, Logan. How was your weekend?

M: Hey, Lisa. I went car camping at Elf Lake. Look at this picture.

W: Did you sleep in a car?

M: Yeah, I put in a pillow and blanket on the flattened backseats.

W: What are those hanging from the car trunk door?

M: They are string lights. It's beautiful when the bulbs light up.

W: The camping lantern on the table looks nice, too.

M: Right. It can make a romantic atmosphere at night.

W: You even set a tablecloth on the table. I like the checkered pattern.

M: I wanted to create my own cozy campsite. Do you see the camping chair near the table?

W: Yeah, it looks good for sitting and relaxing with a cup of coffee.

5. 대화를 듣고, 여자가 할 일로 가장 적절한 것을 고르시오.

M: Hannah, everything you made was delicious!

M: I'm glad. I'll do the dishes for you.

W: If you do that, I'd be grateful.

M: By the way, where's the dishwashing liquid?

W: That bar of soap next to the sink is for dishwashing. I made it myself.

M: Oh, really?

W: Yes. It's more eco-friendly than the liquid detergent at the store.

M: How did you make it?

W: I followed a recipe from the Internet.

M: [Pause] Wow, this soap works so well. Can you send me the link to the website? I want to make one too.

M: Oh, I see. What did you replace and how much is it?

W: We changed both tires. Each tire is $15.

M: I see. Is that all?

W: No. We also replaced the brake pads for both wheels.

M: Good. How much is that?

W: We put a new pair of brake pads on each wheel. It's $10 for one pair.

M: You mean I need to pay for two pairs?

W: Right. And lastly, we cleaned the chain. But that's free.

M: Yes. The view from the terrace is wonderful and it looks like there are still a few tables available.

W: I know, but I'd prefer to sit inside, if you don't mind.

M: Why? Do you think it'd be a bit chilly out there?

W: No. It's not as cold as I thought.

M: Then, is it because of the fine dust? The air quality is actually pretty good today.

W: No, that's not the reason. It's too noisy outside to talk comfortably.

M: Oh, I see. Let's eat inside, then.

8. 대화를 듣고, Galland perfume workshop에 관해 언급되지 않은 것을 고르시오.

M: That sounds fun. Do they have a workshop in English?

W: Yes. It starts at 1 p.m.

M: How long is the workshop?

W: Two hours.

M: I see. Then we'll have time to get afternoon tea after the workshop. Where's the workshop being held?

W: In the Saint Michel building. It's not far from our hotel.

M: We can't spend more than $30 each.

W: Then this one's out. And orange doesn't seem like a good color. It's a bit flashy.

M: I agree. How about the capacity?

W: I think 300 ml is too small.

M: Right. Then, there are two options left. Do you think a mood light is useful?

W: Yes. It can work as a bed lamp.

[16 ~ 17] 다음을 듣고, 물음에 답하십시오.

M: Hello, students. Last class, we talked about IoT home devices. Today, let's expand the topic and learn about smart cities. Smart cities use technology to provide services and solve various problems. Singapore is one of the front-runners in the race to create fully smart cities, with IoT cameras monitoring the condition of the city, including the cleanliness of public spaces. It also has systems to monitor energy use, waste management, and water use in real time. San Diego has installed 3,200 smart sensors to optimize traffic flow, and electric vehicles are supported by solar-to-electric charging stations. Traffic monitoring systems are also used in Dubai. This city has telemedicine and smart healthcare solutions as well as smart tourism options. In New York, the police department has tested web-based software that uses historical crime data to predict and respond to crimes. The test has produced a marked decrease in violent crimes in the city. Thanks to smart systems, many citizens around the world can improve their quality of life.
