M: Oh, Susan. You're eating lunch here in the office.

W: Hi, Aaron. I've been bringing my own lunch.

M: That's why I haven't seen you in the company cafeteria recently. Wait. That's a lot of chicken breast for one meal!

W: Yeah. I've been eating a lot of protein for each meal these days because I want to build bigger muscles.

M: Well, it seems that you're eating too much protein. Overconsuming protein is unhealthy.

W: Don't we need a lot of protein to build bigger muscles?

M: Yes, but too much protein can cause stomachaches.

W: Oh, that's probably why I've felt uncomfortable after each meal lately.

M: Besides, eating too much protein may cause calcium loss. It can lead to poor bone health.

W: Really? I didn't know that.

M: So, taking in too much protein is harmful for your health.

W: I see. Then I'll cut down on the amount of protein I eat.

W: It seems lovely. There's a leaf-shaped mirror on the wall!

M: Right, it's so unique. What do you think about the painting between the windows?

W: Whoever painted it is really talented. I also like the two flowerpots on the shelf. They're so pretty.

M: They really brighten up the room. And do you see the star-patterned table cloth?

W: Yes, it's eye-catching. Oh, the round rug is really neat.

M: It creates a comfortable mood.

W: Yeah, I feel the same way. I'll definitely visit the café when I have the chance.

Vinston exhibit. He's so popular on social media nowadays.
W: Great. For transportation, I arranged for a bus to take us there. Have you and the other students decided what we'll eat for lunch?
M: Yes. Yesterday, I ordered 25 sandwiches.
W: Excellent. Do our members know about the meeting time and place?
M: Not yet. Do you want me to text them the details?
W: No, I'll do that.
M: Thank you. Have you booked the admission tickets?
W: Of course. I've received the online confirmation. Oh, it might be good to

M: Good. Anything else?

W: I also need lip balm.

M: Is there any particular brand you have in mind?

W: Not really.

M: Then, this one is quite popular. It's only $5.

W: All right. I'll take six. I'll give them out to my fellow hikers. And, that's all.

M: Okay. So, two small size foot creams and six lip balms, right?

W: Yes. And I heard there's a sales event this week.

M: Right. You'll get a 10% discount off the total.

M: Right. Look. There's an announcement about it on the team's website. It'll be held on Friday, November 1st.

W: There's no way I'm going to miss it. It says the celebration will take place at Dallers City Sharks Stadium.

M: I'm sure it'll be crowded. Oh, there's an admission fee.

W: Yeah, it's $20 per person. Do you want to go with me, Dad?

M: Sure. Oh, look. There's a list of items that are banned. We're not allowed to bring fireworks or drones.

W: That makes sense. They can be dangerous in a stadium. Anyway, I can't wait to take part in the celebration!

W: Well, I don't want to spend more than $200.

W: Yeah, it wouldn't go well with our door.

M: Now, we're down to these two. Do you think we need the fingerprint recognition feature?

W: I don't think we'll use it much. Let's choose the one without it.

M: Sounds like a good choice. I'll order this one.

M: It causes the release of endorphins, which can lead to a boost in confidence.

M: Good morning, students. Today, we're going to learn about the key characteristics that enable some animals to reach high speeds. First, there's no animal faster on land than the cheetah. Its flexible backbone and joints allow for extreme extension, enabling it to stretch its legs very far and push off its back legs with great force like a spring. Second, the falcon is one of the fastest birds. Its large breastbone allows more muscle to be attached to it, so it can beat its wings with greater power. Third, the swordfish is among the fastest fish in the sea. It releases a special, slippery oil from its head that coats the front of its body, enabling it to swim with less resistance. Lastly, the dragonfly is considered the world's fastest flying insect. It has the unique ability to slightly twist its wings as they swing down, causing a small tornado-like wind that gives it a boost of speed. Now, let's watch a video of nature's speedsters.
