3. 다음을 듣고, 남자가 하는 말의 목적으로 가장 적절한 것을 고르시오.

M: Hello, everyone! I'm Jack Spencer, vice principal of the school. For the last few days, I have noticed that our school bulletin board is filled with advertisements from many school clubs. On one hand, I was very pleased to know that you're so enthusiastic about club activities. However, I happened to see that some advertisements did not have permission stamps from the school administration office. You must receive permission to attach advertisements on the bulletin board. Advertisements without permission stamps are not allowed. I'm sorry, but such advertisements will be taken off. Please don't forget to visit the school administration office before you post advertisements on the bulletin board. Thank you for listening.

4. 대화를 듣고, 여자의 의견으로 가장 적절한 것을 고르시오.

M: Kate, what are you reading?
W: I'm reading the preface of this book, The Usefulness of Useless Knowledge.
M: But I saw you reading that book last week. Are you still reading it?
W: No, I already finished reading it.
M: Then why are you reading the preface again?
W: It's my habit to read the preface again after I read a book.
M: Do you have any particular reason for doing that?
W: The preface often talks about the intentions of the author, so by reading it again, I can understand the book more clearly.
M: I see what you mean. Reading the preface again can help you review the book.
W: You're right. I can think over how and how much the author accomplished his intentions.
M: That sounds good. I'll have to try it next time.
W: I bet you will enjoy it.

5. 대화를 듣고, 두 사람의 관계를 가장 잘 나타낸 것을 고르시오.

W: Oh, Mr. Thomson, you're earlier than usual.
M: Yes. I was able to leave the office earlier today. I'm wondering if Dan behaved himself.
W: Well, he was not in a good mood when you brought him this morning.
M: I don't know why, but he didn't want to come here.
W: Sometimes that happens to children. Fortunately, Dan and I talked a lot and he felt good again. And he had lots of fun with his classmates, too.
M: I'm glad he had a good time. Thank you so much for taking good care of him. Actually he often talks about you at home.
W: Oh, really? He's one of my favorite children in my class.
M: Thank you for saying so. Dan's mother and I are always thankful. We know it's hard to take care of young children all day long.
W: Fortunately, I love my job. Oh, I heard from Dan that your family is going on a trip tomorrow. Is that right?
M: Yes. We'll be back on Friday.
W: Then, I'll be able to see Dan again next Monday. I hope you have a nice trip.
[Pause] Oh, here comes Dan.

W: Let me see. [Pause] There's a signboard above the door. That looks cool.
M: Thanks.
W: I like the striped window shades, too.
M: They are intended to keep direct sunlight from entering the store.
W: Oh, I see. Wow, a variety of bread is on the display stand. They all look so delicious.
M: Right. And look at the table and chairs in front of the store. Customers can enjoy their sandwiches there.

W: I read an article that a new biking course along the Ron River opened last month.
M: Really? I heard the scenery of the river is very beautiful.
W: Yes, but it has to be easy enough for Jane and me to bike. I'll check if it is.
M: Then I'll check if our bikes are safe to ride before we go. I hope they are still in good condition.
W: Yeah, we haven't taken a bike trip in months. Oh, I almost forgot. As far as I remember, Jane lost her helmet on our last biking trip.
M: You're right. While I check the bikes, can you go get a new one at the nearby bike shop?

W: Of course. That's why I've been recommending that you move here.
M: Actually I'm going to move there.
W: Really? When are you planning on moving here?

M: I have 15 students in my class, and I'd like to give a box of cookies to each of them.
W: I see. How about this? It costs 3 dollars for a box.
M: Hmm..., I think it's too small. My students love cookies.
W: Then what about this? It's a little bigger, and it's 5 dollars for a box.
M: That looks perfect. I'll take 15 boxes.
W: Okay, sir. Do you have a membership card?
M: I'm sorry, but I don't have one.

I enjoyed seeing many paintings and sculptures there.
W: Wow, I envy you! Did you see any musical?
M: Yes, I saw Les Miserables and Mamma Mia. They were really excellent.
W: What was the best meal you had there?

W: Karl, do you have any plans for this Saturday?
M: Nothing special. Do you have anything in mind, Susan?
W: Why don't we go to a ballet?
M: Sounds great. Do you have a pamphlet with you?
W: Yes. Which genre of ballet do you want to see?
M: I think modern ballet is too difficult for me to understand.
W: Then let's see a classical or romantic ballet. And I think 8 o'clock in the evening is too late. The performances will end past 11 o'clock.
M: You're right. And I think the Royal Theater is too far from our homes.
W: Then we have two options left. Which one do you prefer?
M: The City Theater is near both of our homes.
W: But I don't like Kate Bell and Ron Brown. I don't think their dancing is inspiring.
M: I see. It's settled then. Let's see this one.
W: Okay.

13. 대화를 듣고, 여자의 마지막 말에 대한 남자의 응답으로 가장 적절한 것을 고르시오.

W: Jake, you don't look good today. What's wrong?
M: My body hurts all over. Actually I took my first badminton lesson yesterday.
W: You probably used muscles that you don't use very often.
M: I'm not sure I should keep taking lessons in this condition.
W: You should. Over time, your muscles will adjust to the sport.
M: Do you really think so?
W: Sure, but there is one thing that you should keep in mind.
M: What is it? Is it related to being injured while playing badminton?
W: Kind of. You stretch before playing badminton, right?
M: Of course, I do.
W: Good, but you should also stretch after exercising. It helps to relax your body tension.
M: _____

14. 대화를 듣고, 남자의 마지막 말에 대한 여자의 응답으로 가장 적절한 것을 고르시오.

M: Audrey, what are you reading?
W: It's Snow White, Mr. Lewis.
M: Didn't you say that you saw the animation Snow White last week?
W: Yes, I did. I'd like to compare the animation with the original story and make a presentation next time.
M: Good. I think the topic is very interesting.
W: Right, but I have a question, Mr. Lewis.
M: What is it?
W: In the animation the magic mirror's voice was definitely a male voice, but in the original story it's not clear whether the magic mirror's voice is male or female.
M: Oh, that's a very good observation. Audrey, what was the question the queen asked the magic mirror?
W: "Magic mirror on the wall, who is the fairest of them all?"
M: I think the animators thought it was a man who answered the question, but the original writer didn't think like that.

[16~17] 다음을 듣고, 물음에 답하십시오.

W: Is your child interested in the arts? If your child is, you might think he or she will be an artist in the future. One of my students was given many opportunities to visit art exhibitions when he was young. He said those visits helped him decide to be an art curator. However, the arts may lead your child to take a different career path from the arts. My son wanted to be an actor, so he joined the drama club of his school. He got an opportunity to play the role of lawyer in a school play. This led him to decide to be a lawyer. Here is another example. My friend has a daughter who enjoys taking piano lessons. She volunteered to play the piano on a regular basis at a hospital. She got interested in what the doctors and nurses were doing there, and she made up her mind to follow a career in medicine. Artistic activities will lead your child down many possible career paths. Why don't you motivate your children to be involved in artistic activities? It will most likely help them find the right job.
