Dear WKU ORSP,

Could you please reconsider the "Requirements" of hosting a prestigious international academic conference (AHRD 2020 Asian Conference)?

WKU ORSP requested these information to apply for the approval from School, Wenzhou city, and Zhejiang province:

- 1) the list of keynote speakers and speakers in each session, including the name, nationality, workplace, and title,
- 2) the list of participants, including the name, nationality, workplace, and title,
- 3) the schedule of the three-day conference, including the time and topic of each speech,
- 4) and the budget of $10,000 in detail.

As a top-tier refereed scientific conference, AHRD (Academy of Human Resource Development conference can provide available information as below:

1) Several keynote speakers information.

Dr. Ronal Jacobs - University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign (Scholar Hall of Fame, AHRD, former AHRD President)

Dr. Khalil Dirani at Texas A&M (Current AHRD Chairperson)

Dr. Laura Bierman at University of Georgia (former AHRD President)

2) Several organizers and speakers:

Dr. Xiaoping (Pauline) Tong at Beihang University (Beijing)

Dr. Jeonghwan (Jerry) Choi at WKU CBPM

Dr. Chungil (Chad) Chae at WKU CBPM

3. Schedule and Structure of the conference

For schedule, you can refer to 2021 AHRD Asian Conference. We will have almost same schedule structure.

THERE'S NO BETTER TIME THAN NOW TO REGISTER FOR VIRTUAL AHRD-ARACD 2021 CONFERENCE!

Cruise our website at <http://www.ahrd-aracd.upm.edu.my>

Conference presenters (speakers) and participants will be chosen according to the rigorous peer-review and referee system until the conference opening (Nov. 2022) based on the quality.

Conference topics are reflected in the following eleven conference tracks:

- National, international, and cross-cultural HRD
- HRD and sustainable development
- Leadership development
- Workplace learning and training
- Career education, development and counseling
- Corporate social responsibility, policy and ethics in HRD
- Organizational development and change
- Technology and innovation in HRD
- HRD issues in Asia
- Adult education, youth and community development
- Gender, diversity, and migration in HRD

The conference accepts manuscripts of original research and posters that have not been previously published. Researchers and scholar-practitioners from all academic, governmental, and enterprise fields are invited to contribute to the four categories of submission: Refereed papers (full manuscripts), Work-in-progress papers, Practice-based papers, and Posters.

4) Budget

It is dependent on the 'screening process' of the scientific manuscript from top class researchers. However, We definitely limit the Budget under $10,000 thanks to the WKU CBPM's Faculty and Research resources. Please see the attached proposal again.

These are all available information from AHRD Asia conference team in China now.

If you think WKU is heading to a "R2" Research School / Urban Research School, Could you please reconsider positively 'Hosting the Prestigious AHRD Asian Conference 2022 in WKU?' This is one of the best opportunities for WKU to emerge as a center of "top tier Research in People / Organization / Leadership Development Research and Practice".

Your kind help is highly appreciative.

Best regards,
Jeonghwan (Jerry) Choi, PhD, MBA, ME
