

Blade & Soul

The image features the title "Blade & Soul" in a bold, black, cursive script. The text is positioned diagonally across the frame. Behind the text are three thick, vertical brush strokes that transition from a bright orange at the top to a deep red at the bottom. The strokes have a textured, painterly quality. There are several black ink splatters and drips around the text, particularly at the beginning and end of the words, adding to the dynamic and artistic feel of the design.
